David Sokolin, Alexandra Bruce : Investing in Liquid Assets: Uncorking Profits in Today's Global Wine Market before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Investing in Liquid Assets: Uncorking Profits in Today's Global Wine Market:

Investment Grade Wines (IGWs) have dependably out-performed Blue Chip stocks over the past 150 years. If you're willing to do a little research and take a little risk, your likelihood of reaping big rewards in wine investment skyrockets. In simple, practical terms, Liquid Assets walks readers through how to take advantage of the information sources currently available and defines the key players and principles that govern the world of fine wine. By arming readers with information and tactics that were previously only known by successful professionals, Liquid Assets makes clear how you can make your passion for fine wine pay for itself, pay for your child's college tuition - or more.
