0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Not happy.By MaggieBought this for a friend that has. Macular degeneration. We started with a magic marker and the ink bled through to the page underneath. Not at all happy. A regular pen is not wide enough for him to see. I was hoping this book had thicker pages.

This address book is designed for people with visual impairment or failing eyesight. It is large sized (8 x 10 inches) for ease of use, with a bright yellow cover and the title front and back to make it easy to find in the home. Each page has the letter of the alphabet in 80 point (approx one inch high) clear type. There is room for ten entries for each letter of the alphabet, with ruled lines to help the user write in large letters their addresses, phone numbers and email addresses. Text in these sections is in 18 point, the size recommended by the Royal National Institute of Blind People.(RNIB). The first page contains ruled lines for the owner's most important phone numbers. It will make a great gift particularly for older people who may find normal sized address books difficult to use and hard to find in the home.
