MalikI had already given the GMAT TestPrep online test and was looking for some more tests. Hence I picked up this book and gave the 3 online tests which come on the included CDi. I found these tests excellent .My final score on Gmat matched the score that I got on the last Arco CD test . (620,730,690)The only reason I did not give 5 is because I did not use the theory of Arco much.For reading/revision of theory and simple strategy, I found that Princeton review book is excellent.And for practice questions , official Gmat book is a good resource.-SPS: I posted this review by mistake to 2006. I don't know the difference between the two but the CD tests I gave were for 2007 edition. 1 of 1 to take the GMAT a second time because my score was not high enough for my grad school. The first book I had used was by Kaplan, the advisor had recommended it. I thought I was well prepared and was not. Then my friend told my about this book and I did everything in it. I took the test two days ago and my score went up 130 points! I recommend this book to everyone! Get this one the first time so you don't have to take the test again!
