Kui-Hee Song : Multicultural and International Approaches in Social Work Practice: An Intercultural Perspective before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Multicultural and International Approaches in Social Work Practice: An Intercultural Perspective:

This book presents an intercultural perspective of social work education, practice, and research with culturally-linguistically-relationally underprivileged minority groups in the local and global communities, to show how the synthesis of theories from postmodern social constructionism, multiculturalism, and international organization empowerment can be applied when working with Asian immigrant families.

About the Author Kui-Hee Song has carried out multicultural and international social work education, research, and practice with a focus on human rights and socioeconomic justice-based empowerment approaches to culturally-linguistically-relationally underprivileged groups in the local and global communities. Kui-Hee Song holds a Ph.D. in Clinical Social Work from Loyola University Chicago. Dr. Song is Associate Professor in the School of Social Work, California State University, Chico. Her interests include: practice with children and families and their community, and community-participatory human services program development and evaluation.
