

[E-BOOK] My interview skills are good (I think)...so why didn't I get a job offer?: Easy guide for students and recent grads to be ready for an interview that gets a job offer! (I Think Career Skills)

My interview skills are good (I think)...so why didn't I get a job offer?: Easy guide for students and recent grads to be ready for an interview that gets a job offer! (I Think Career Skills)

Stacie Garlieb

*DOC | audiobook | ebooks | Download PDF | ePub

DOWNLOAD

READ ONLINE

#3569788 in Books CreateSpace Independent Publishing Platform 2010-02-23Original language:EnglishPDF # 1 9.00 x .16 x 6.00l, .22 #File Name: 144996640368 pages | File size: 71.Mb

Stacie Garlieb : My interview skills are good (I think)...so why didn't I get a job offer?: Easy guide for students and recent grads to be ready for an interview that gets a job offer! (I Think Career Skills) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised My interview skills are good (I think)...so why didn't I get a job offer?: Easy guide for students and recent grads to be ready for an interview that gets a job offer!

(I Think Career Skills):

0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. My Interview skills are good...(i think) book reviewBy Anat HazanchukAfter reading this book I was able to go into interviews confident and ready to tackle any question that was asked from me. I was able to prepare beforehand and come up with strong answers to impress the managers. This book is very easy to follow and read! It was the third book in the series that I have read and I would definitely recommend this book along with the others for students and recent grads!My job offer negotiation skills are strong (I think)...so why didn't I get anything I asked for?: Easy guide for students and recent grads to evaluate and negotiate the details of a job offer!My resume is perfect (I think)...so why didn't I get an interview?: Fast and easy guide for students and recent grads to write a resume that gets interviews!0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Successful InterviewsBy Jenny P.I was able to successfully go in to interviews confident and well prepared because of this book. I never knew what hiring managers were looking for until now. I would definitely recommend this book to anyone about to go on interviews or even start a new job search.My resume is perfect (I think)...so why didn't I get an interview?: Fast and easy guide for students and recent grads to write a resume that gets interviews!My job offer negotiation skills are strong (I think)...so why didn't I get anything I asked for?: Easy guide for students and recent grads to evaluate and negotiate the details of a job offer!0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. GREAT ReferenceBy DC TeacherThis was a great reference for interviewing. The advice helped guide my interviews and resources in order to be effective in my interview. I believe this resource made the difference in my interview success.

Your resume had impactful information to get you an interview. Ready for the interview, you were early to the interview location, answered the questions, felt confident that they liked you, and you knew you were going to be in the top of the list to move forward in the interview process. So why didn't they give you a job offer? Did you answer the interview questions completely? Were you prepared when they asked the 'tough' questions? At the end of the interview, did you know what they wanted in a top candidate? Did the interviewer know what your expectations are for a job opportunity? Are your goals a fit for the position and the company? Did you follow up appropriately? Recruiters and hiring managers want you to accurately represent your ability to fit into their organizations. This book helps you take a collaborative view from hiring managers on what 'we' are looking for and how to best position yourself during the interview process so you can get the job offer you want! September 2011 updated version

About the AuthorStacie Garlieb is the author of 'My resume is perfect (I think) TM ... so why didn't I get the interview?'(c). As the President of Successful Impressions, LLC., she assists collegiates and recent graduates with career search processes and skills. She has been featured several times on NBC television and KFYZ radio during morning and evening news with interview tips. In partnership with University of Phoenix, Stacie is the creator and presenter for the 'Career Workshop Series' on resume building, interview preparation, interview skills, social media networking, and 're-careering' and transition in the workforce. Stacie is a well-known national speaker who has presented on various career skills topics at events such as Build Your Career Event (Career Builder/University of Phoenix), Arizona Womens Expo, American Marketing Association International Conference (2010, 2011), Jobs for AZ Graduates Career Development Conference (2010, 2011), Reinvent Your Future 2010, Devlink Technical Conference, and multiple corporate team development sessions. Her career search tips and interview skills advice have been published in collegiate, national sorority, and alumni publications, and she is currently also featured as an expert as the Phoenix Career Transition Examiner at examiner.com and as the Career Planning Expert for College Expert Panel. As the author of the Career Search Skills Series books available on and in college bookstores, she collaborated with other hiring managers to create generation specific guides to help people navigate the job search process. Through group presentations and one-on-one coaching on all career search related topics, she has worked with public and private college students nationally since 1991. Stacie was invited by California State Sacramento and University of the Pacific to act as a Career Consultant to the career services departments. She developed the Career Fair Training Program for University of the Pacific, and assisted in writing the "Career Services Interview Skills" guide. Over more than twenty years, she has worked for Fortune 500 organizations in sales, marketing, and management positions with recruiting responsibility after earning her Bachelor of Science from Arizona State University.